Resolution to Take Up the Tariff Bill Defeated.

REVENUE DEFICIENCY DISCUSSED

Senators Morrill, Teller, Sherman and Others Participate in the Debate.

Washington, February 25.—After the senate had disposed of much routine business, Mr. Morrill, chairman of the inence committee followed with a discomplications of the tearn of the state of the title of the theory was a "deficiency in the revenues. During every month since the present tariff bill went into effect there had been a deficiency.

"There is a motion here made by the senstor from Montans (Carler), who, I believe, has as much claim to be called a Republican as the senstor from Vermont, to recommit this bill for defects in the bill, putent and apparent defects in the bill, putent and and examined it concede.

"Mr. President, I charge here (and I shall undertake to make the charge good before this delast is every that this bill was never introduced by oither body or lins it been supported in this budy with any reference to its becoming a law. Of that I shall speak another time. If the senator from Vermont thinks that he can embarches us who have stood by the Republican party as long as he has and zaslously as he has, because we do not agree with him upon every subject, he is entirely mistaken."

Mr. Morrill—"I have read no man out of the Republican party, but I allade to the fact that there are 80 senators in Tellar—"Of course, we knew that b. The suggestion is that we who not votal to take up this bill are epublicans. For thirty days the Republican metropolitan press has sut of that party enough of the ners to make it in the minority, if theretoive a unjority there. prosperity to which we are entitled by reason of advantages which exist in this country.

"I wish to enter my protest and lo say that I am not to be frightneed by the snears of the chairman of the committee, nor by the attacks of the press. I shall do what I think is my duty to do here, regardless of consequences, and is seeme to me that it would be in latter taste and more in accordance with the dignity of the senate if we should hear less here and clearly. Mr. Sherman of Ohio, followed Mr. Teller, and said:

"Mr. President, as a member of the committee on finance I disclaim all parties needing to respect to the hill which the Senator from Vermont moves to bring before the senate the senate true the little that it proposes to furnish $40,000,000 of evenus to be support of the government, enough to meet the current expunses of the government.

"It is a bill prepared for an occasion, not a political une. I say now, Mr. President, I shall took for any tax whatever which may be proposed by any body, whether Douncerue, Populist or Republican, which shall supply soft-ble for it.

"Every senator here appreciates the necessity for increasing revenue. Every senator knows that the longers and expectations of the President and the servetary of the treasury, as made in their reports, involved the servetary of the treasury, as made in their reports, involved the servetary of the treasury, as made in their reports, involved the served any willink design on their part, but he cause they did not see the natural tendency of a curre of measures which every day left the government more and more in debt."

It was 3.10 o'clock, the hour for taking up the Cuban discussion, when Mr. Mayan was recognized to proceed with his speech on that question.

Mr. Gray spoke of the forbearance the United States had long shown toward Spein over Oubs, which was a constant source of irritation. He could not stiffe the feelings aroused by the said condition and the entirering of the Cuban people. Ortices and actors both are so diversited in their opinion of its text that no two actors feel in the embodiment of the part the necessive of following in the footstens of a predecessor. The Hanilet of Booth, of Barrett, of Coquelin, Irving, Fechter and Wheon Barrett were all essentially different, not only in the individuality of player, but in interpretation of text, method and environment.

Mr. Baker as Horatio was very good, indeed, while Mr. Lowell as Laertee several times arose to the occasion and deserved an ancore, which was not forthcoming for some reason, though much poorer work was loudly recognized. Although Mr. Henming as the Ghost lacked the wiert and sepulcher tones we usually hear with that character, the general arrangement of the acuse and the thrilling denounement was one of the bust innovations Mr. Keene has introduced in the play. ### IRISH VS. BUDD.

Colonel John C. Irish, collector of portin San Francisco, is saying some very severe things about Governor Budd, of which the following may be considon the text:

'This wretch is traducing California

pose of gaining a demagogues arrivage."

As a basis for an attack upon the governor of the state the above furnishes a theme which is amplified to the extent of more than a column in the San Francisch with the chief execuisco papera, in which the chief executive is held up to puone scorn as a pu-litical jobber and a demagogue, who, un-der the guise of reform, is carrying out selfish schemes that put Bosa Buckley to shame. It is a savage attack, and an open declaration of war between two of the most prominent Democrats of the state.

In this connection it is due to Governor Budd to say that he has just removed Colonel Irich from the directory of the Home for Adult Blind, and that the Calcondiaconnicon are not suidentity. of the Home for Adult Blind, and that the Celonel's opinions are not, evidently, entirely free from personal feeling. That the feeling of Colonel I rish toward the Governor is thoroughly hostile is quite evident, not only from the nature of the numbers of men and women who are harges which he makes against him out the language which he uses in making them.

In regard to the desue between the Governor and Colonel Irish, the latter states that it is due to his opposition to the former's determination to appoint an incompetent politician as superintendent of the blind sayum in the place of the blind superintendent who had held the place for a number of years without mujestation from changing administra-

THE BALVATION ARMY.

General Booth of the Salvation. Army ordered Commander Ballingen Booth to reliaquels command of the agmy in the United States. Commander Both as been at the head of the agmy in this country aine years; he is a clitizen of this country, and the greater part of his army affiliations are now on this side of the water. The order for his retirement was looked upon as a instortine bolt by Salvation soldiers and clitizens generally, and a great effort was made to have the general's order counterment was looked upon as a instortine bolt by Salvation soldiers and clitizens generally, and a great effort was made to have the general's order counterment and the second of the se

So, in this Ohristian of organiza-tions, has begun that process of disinte-gration which has filled the world with jarring creeds and churchly factions; which has divided Catholic from Catho-lic, Protestant from Protestant and each lle, Protestant from Protestant and such from the other, while all acknowleds the same name as higher than all ott-ers. It is a bar which man raises against his brother, and with which the simple creed of the Nazarene has nothing to do.

In the case of the Salvation Army, the In the case of the Estvation Army, present event might have been foreseen. Indeed, several months ago the REFUR Indeed, several metric in the Lican prophesied that something of the kind was not far shead for the army; and no naticular segacity or foresight was involved in the prophecy, for the history of mankind shows clearly enough what course religious movements run. ### HOCKENBERRY'S

It Went in a Democratic Fight

AND IT NEVER CAME BACK Campaign Secrets Are Brought Oc at a Trial-A Phantom

Deputyship. The suit of Jacob Hockenberr

The suit of Jacob Hockenberry against George W. Smith came up for brial yesterday in the superior court before Judge Carter. The suit and the algeations on which it is based have been before the public for more than a year. At first only rumors of a misunder-tamiling between Hockenberry and standing between Hockenberry and Smith reached the public. Then came Smith reached the public. Then came a suit in the justice court in which the facts became known to a fuller extent, and yesterday the case was tried on ap peal, and the questions and cross-ques and yesterday the case was fried on appeal, and the questions and cross-questions brought out an entertaining chapter in Democratic politics in this county.

The facts of the case, as agreed upon by both parties, are that in 1894 George W. Smith was the Democratic montine for shortly was used in the campaign. Further than this they do not sgree in the them this they do not sgree in all things. Hockenberry says he advanced Smith $242. Smith satisfact some money, but is not certain mow much. Hockenberry says he lossned this money to Smith and expected to get it back with interest. Smith says that Hockenberry gave him the money to Smith and expected to get it back with interest. Smith says that Hockenberry gave him the money to see in the campaign, and that there was no understanding or promise on his part that it ever should be paid back. There is a very delicate matter which both approach with caution. That is, what was the consideration for which the money was paid. It is unusual for people to make gifts of $242. There is generally some consideration. Although the matter was the consideration for which the money was paid. It is unusual for people to make gifts of $242. There is generally some consideration. Although the matter was the prefer court in case smith should be elected sheriff. It is untaked to make prefer court in case smith should be elected sheriff. It is untaked to make promises of this kind, or pay money to abain a position of that cert; and the transaction is somewhat shedr. It is pretty hard to tell just when and where such a promise was made, yet the actionce in the case shows that both Smith and Hockenberry had such understanding.

CRICITON TAKES A MAND.

There was an agent, or go-between, who did the arranging. This was W. D. Crichton. He was the friend of both and had the confidence of both. He ascertained that Smith needed money in the cashing the approach of both and had th

D. Crichton. He was the friend of both and had the confidence of both. Ho ascertained that Smill needed money in the campaign, and if elected, could appoint deputies. He also became aware that Hockenberry had money which he might be induced to put into the fight, and that he had simbitions to be deputy in Judge Wobb's court. All that was needed was to bring together the man who had money and the man who had money and the man who wanted it.

Whole was called to the stand and the question was saked: "Do you know whether G. W. Smith received any money from Jood Hockenberry during the campaign?" He declined to answer on the ground that it would criminite himself.

Walser then asked if he knew whether Smith received any money from Ifonknoberry, and how much. He said Smith received $150 or $150 from that source. "Did you act as agent for Smith or Hockenberry," and how much. He said Smith received $150 or $150 from that source. "Did you act as agent for Smith or Hockenberry saked me what sman a estalement in substance as follows: "Hockenberry saked me what Smith's financial standing wan. I told him Smith was good for any amount of money he night set. It was after the Democratic county convention. Hockenberry said he would put $500 into Smith's fight, if no could get a deputy-ship in case of Smith's election. He wanted to be balliff in Judge Webb's court and said he would take his charter what Hockenberry had said."

"What reply did he make?" asked Waleer.

"I don't know what he promised Hockenberry, except that Smith told him he would pay it back it he would keep still He wanted no noise about it. People were talking.

"After the election," continued Crichton, "Hockenberry wanted the money repaid, or wanted a note. He wanted me to see Smith about it. I did so, and advised him to pay the money to save talk. He said he would do so, but did not have the money. I had a double reason for wanting it repaid. Poople were beginning to talk, and I also wanted to save costs."

RICKEMBERRY 92 THE STAND.

Jacob Hockenberry fook the stand in his own behalf. His testimony was as follows: "In 1894 I was told by W. D. Grichton that George W. Smith, the Democratic nomines for sheriff, was hard up and needed money. I replied that I would loan him money if I could get a deputyabip. In a few days Orighton told noe he had seen Smith shout it and that if I would pat $500 into the fight I could get a deputyabip. In handed Orichton $50 for Smith, saying as I did so that I did not want a note until Smith had got all the money he wanted. In a lew days I gave Crichton $60 more, and shortly airward $60 more, and shortly airward $60 more, and told him to give it to Smith. Hout a week steer this I met Smith. He said he was in a fight place, an an had given a fight of the mountains an order on Kutner-Goldstein Company for $30, and had no monoy there to meet it. I gave him $50 more. He said he was the first $100 more. Ite said he wanted it repay his men. He struck me for money a other times when I did not have it. He told me to keep account of it and he would pay no in a few days, or give his more. Leave he asked me for $100, and I refused to give it without a note. After I meed to give it without a note. After I would have loaned him the money anyhow on Crichton's promise of a deputyship. I expected the money to be repaid and to get interest."

In reply to further questions Mr. Smith said that he made no promise to Hockenterry, and was afraid of him. "I would not commit myeelf to him. I received from him personally $50 in gold and $2 in eliver. The remainder came through Crichton. When he gave me the money I told him I would had thack in a few days. He said: "No, let it go into the light."
"A day or two after the election, when everything had gone the other way, Hockenberry met me and wanted to know what I was going to do about the money. Nothing had been said by him bofore election about repaying it."
Judgo Carter cross-questioned Mr. Smith, and the details of the direct examination were more fully explained. Soon after the election Crichton had saked him for the money.
"Did you include this money in your stammant of campaign expenses?" saked the court.
"I did not make any statement."
"Why not? did you not know the status requires all candidates to file a statement of campaign expenses?"
"I did not know it before the election, and after the election I felt so blue I did not want to make any statement."

The far-reaching influence of a paper like the flavountean can searcely be estimated. An instance may be cited. O. P. Tuller of this city and his brother, B. H. Tuller of Geleeburg, Illinois, have discovered each other after a separation of thirty-five years. They had not heard of each other for twenty-four years. They cutered the Union army early in the war, and lought till the close. O. P. Tuller came west, and in 1872 lost track of his brother, and could not him. The far-reaching influence of a paper

A Correspondent's Advice to Certain Reformers.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—In the latentisue of ex-Senator Goncher's new "reform" sheet, the erst-while reform caitor bewails the fact that two of our county officials had absented thomselves. county officials had absented thomselves from the county on private business, as he claims, while their salaries go on just the same. Just awful, inn't it? But how about Grover and Jin Budd! Is it not too bad that they occasionally go duck hunting and fishing for weeks at a time, and yet their salaries go on just the summ? And is it not too bad, too, that state senators aboud go on a junketing tour to San Francisco when the legislature is in session at Sarramento? But perhaps our reform senator has not been there, and does not know how it as himself.

Alt, there! my dear Senator, who train your gume on larger game as well? Why waste all your ammunition on such small fry when there is plenty of larger game in sight? Consistency, thou art a jewel! Few there be in the Democratir ranks that possess them. You, my friend Goucher, you and "Arkanesw" prate about rejorm. How dare you be so bold when your own works make a showing souch worse?

AMERICA'S LEADING CORSETS! R.&G. and W.B.

The R. & G. Corset, which we have kept in fifteen different styles for some time past, has made a splendid record for itself and is justly popular, and we therefore devote our space today to a description of the leading numbers of the W. B. Corsets, which are rapidly coming to the front in all the large cities of the United States.
